About the hosts: Ched and Nannette Salasek are active parishioners at St. Thomas the Apostle with six beautiful children. After having two healthy children, their third child was born with Spina Bifida. Their next daughter would later be diagnosed with ADHD and Sensory Integration Issues. Just when they thought they had seen it all, the youngest daughter was born with Intestinal Malrotation that required emergency surgery. They have accepted each child as a blessing from God, and have become stronger in their marriage through all the ups and downs. Ched and Nannette became advocates for families of children with special needs. Nannette works full time for Raising Special Kids, a non-profit dedicated to serving families of children with special needs, and serves as a Diocesan Consultant.

Fr. Oliver Viotor is the Parochial Vicar at St. Thomas the Apostles Parish, ordained under the terms of the Pastoral Provision for former Episcopal clergymen, he and his wife, Ashley, and their six children have resided in Phoenix since 2005.
